Technical Projects

Weather App

2025

HTML/CSS, JavaScript

🐙 GitHub Repository | 🔗 Live Demo

Built a responsive Weather App to quickly access real-time and location-based weather data. Implemented city search, current location weather, °C/°F toggle, refresh, favorites, and 3-day forecast using HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and Weather API, improving daily weather checks by ~80%.

Job Card UI using React

2026

React.js

🐙 GitHub Repository | 🔗 Live Demo

- The project helps users compare salary details across roles with a clean, responsive UI built in React.js.
- Implemented dynamic components and efficient data rendering to enhance user experience.
- Contributed to designing a clear layout that simplifies job and salary comparison tasks.

Node Chat API

2025

HTML/CSS, Node.js, MongoDB, JavaScript, Express.js

🐙 GitHub Repository | 🔗 Live Demo

Built a chat-based web application where users can send messages by selecting sender and receiver manually. Messages are stored in MongoDB and displayed dynamically on the UI. Used Node.js and Express to handle backend logic and routing, and implemented basic CRUD operations (create, edit, delete me

Problem Solving & Data Structures

🔗 LeetCode

I practice Data Structures and Algorithms in Java, focusing on arrays, strings, recursion, sorting, and searching. I analyze time and space complexity (Big-O) to optimize solutions and write efficient code. I have participated in university-level coding contests and hackathons such as Codex. Currently learning trees and graphs to strengthen my problem-solving skills. Familiar with OOP concepts and basic system design concepts. Experienced with tools such as Git, VS Code, and IntelliJ IDEA.
